Hi Jill —

I was asked to verify that I sent you the comments on Oregon's draft 2012 303(d) list from Clean Water Services that were overlooked in DEQ's Response to Comments.

Looks like I did in November 2014.

Just a reminder that they are part of DEQ's record, so they are attached here again.

Thanks

Hi Ken —

DEQ did not receive a hard copy of the letter.

I did find Raj's electronic transmittal of a letter with your signature to my email box.
It was not submitted to the email address set up for public comments on the draft 2012 303(d) list, which led to it being overlooked in our review of the comments.

My apologies for the oversight.

FYI –DEQ overlooked the comments because they went directly to Karla Urbanowicz's email rather than the mailbox that they set up for comments. I am very sorry for the mix-up...

Raj –
I apologize for the error.

Commenters were directed to send comments to an the email box, IntegratedReport2012, set up to receive the public comments on the draft 2012 Integrated Report. All submittals were acknowledged with a reply from that mailbox. Nothing was received from Clean Water Services in that email box.

I did find the email submittal in my personal folders, but the comments were overlooked in the process of logging, summarizing, and considering all comments received in the official email box. I will forward your comments to EPA so they have those in addition to the comments that were summarized and considered in the Response to Comments document submitted with the 2012 Integrated Report.

Hi Debra,

Here are the comments that Clean Water Services submitted on the draft 2012 Integrated Report. As you will note, the comments were submitted before the February 24, 2014 due date. I also attaching an automated response that I received to the emailed comments. The response to comments did not list Clean Water Services as being one of the commenters. Can you tell me what happened and why Clean Water Services is not listed as a commenter?

Thanks,
